Dedication:

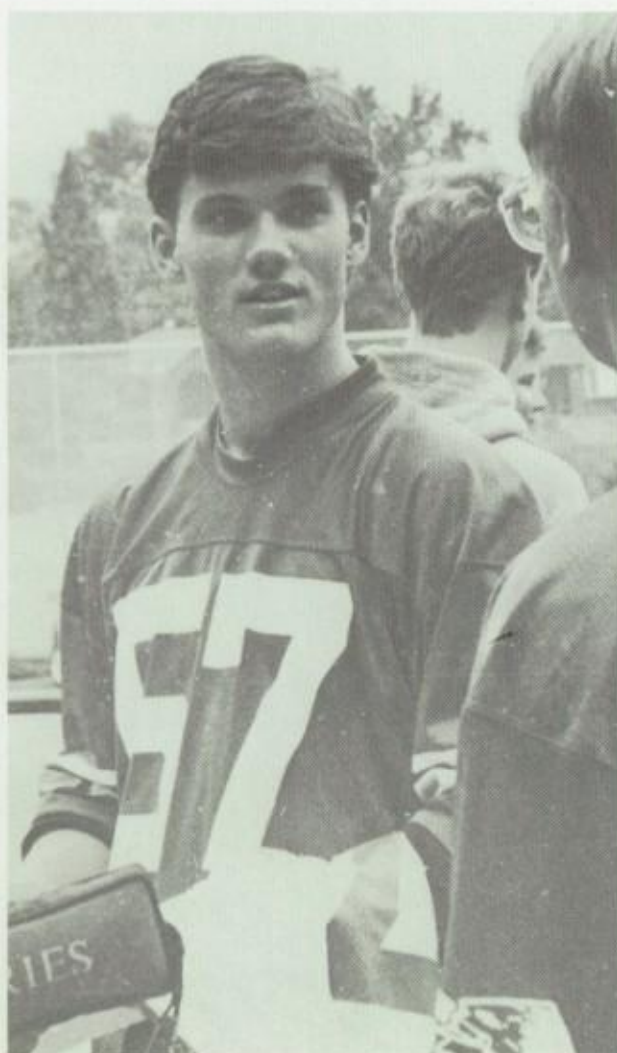

Mrs. Ruth Hauck

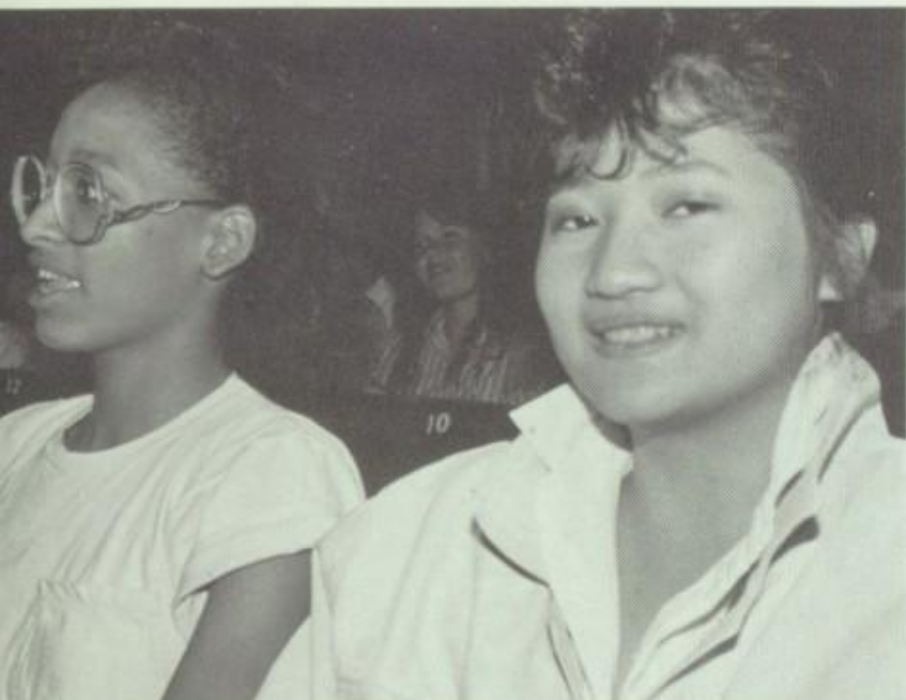

Every year the Johnny Reb staff tries to find a faculty member that exemplifies the Rebel spirit. This year we have chosen Mrs. Ruth Hauck who has spent many years dedicated to making South the best school in Denver. From her early years as a chorus teacher, to contributions as an English teacher, she has helped students both learn and grow as individuals. She has lent her gentle hand and vast knowledge to the support of all students with whom she has come into contact. She extended this kindness by sponsoring the class of 1988. She was more than just a sponsor, however, and became involved and participated in all of their activities. The student body has come to love Mrs. Hauck, not just as an English teacher, but as a friend. Because of all that you have done, we thank you, Mrs. Hauck, and we dedicate the 1987-1988 year book to you.

After suffering through finals, students hit the beach dancing, building sand castles out of blocks, and body surfing. The music, which was provided by Magic Sounds, created an island atmosphere which was enhanced by Rebels beachy attire.

Participants were further entertained by airbands, and the crowning of a Beach Bum and Beach Bunny. For three hours straight, the fun went on, and when it was all over, most Rebels agreed, it had been a true trip to the tropics.

Coach's Corner

Football coach Marvin Oliver, coaching his fourth team at South, felt that success comes with pride. Both of these qualities, success and pride were lacking this year among the football ranks, in coach Oliver's opinion. When saying "pride", he meant hard work, dedication and a willingness to pay the price. Although the lack of these three qualities do not plague the whole team, they effected a large amount of the players. "We have not had a complete team effort due to lack of heart, courage, and desire," said coach Oliver. All this did not get Coach Oliver down. When thinking of the high points of the season he said "Each day with the team there is a different experience with the players. It is difficult to say which is best. I love the players and I love what I am doing. When one looks at it from that perspective, I guess everyday is a good experience!" He also felt the team was continuing to improve and remained optimistic about next year's season.

Senior Zak Kutz was an outstanding player because of his strong desire to succeed. He was a very talented team leader and worked hard as a team member.

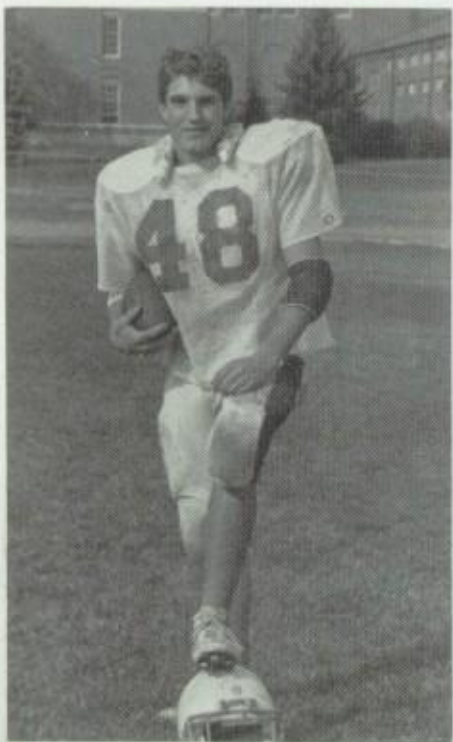

Auntie,
It's been a

ENJOYED THE CAUGHS

YOUR FRIEND,
Lancey Wolfe

Sophomore James Fisher, was chosen as an outstanding athlete because of his desire to win and his good football sense.

... Struggles as a team

Senior quarterback Randy Ziegler, because of his strong desire to succeed, and his great determination, was selected as an outstanding player.

Another sophomore, Matt Neely, was an outstanding athlete. He was very coachable, had a natural football sense and was very intelligent on the field.

As one of the best talents in the DPL, sophomore, Pat Greer, was chosen outstanding athlete.

PREPARING FOR THE BIG TIME

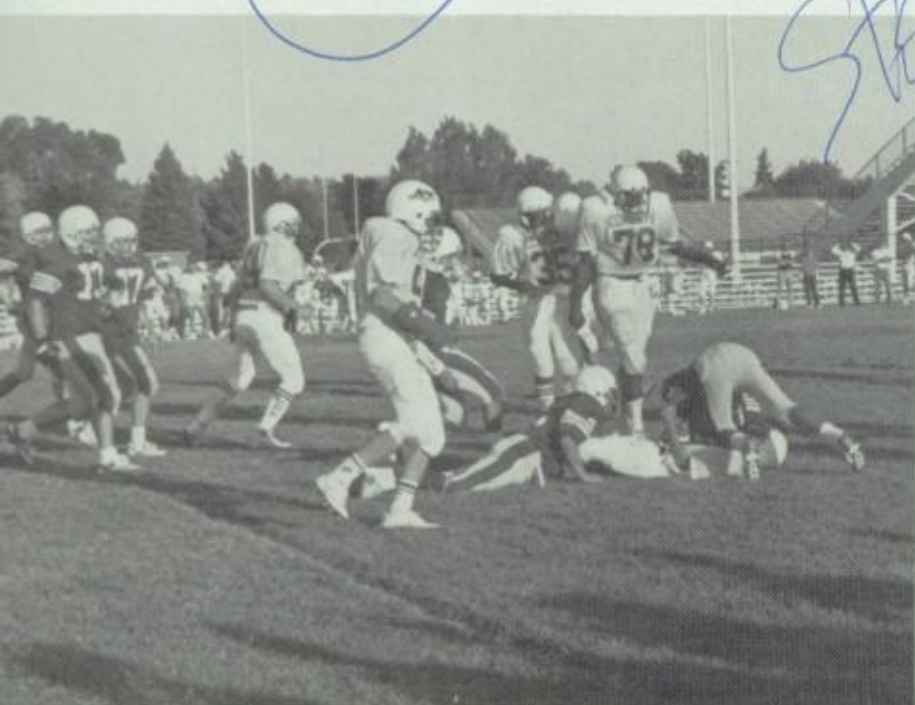

Coach's Corner

Coach Goodman and Coach Supanich felt good about this years season. Their goal was, "to give experience in technique to the ninth and tenth graders." It appeared that they had achieved this goal since so many sophomores were in the varsity games. Coach Goodman felt that this year's team was also very unique in the way they stuck together as a team.

The offensive outstanding football players were sophomores Robert Servoss and Dean Dobson. They were chosen because the coach's had seen a drastic improvement in their play on the field.

Also chosen as outstanding athletes for their improvement in play were Orlando Gallegos and Morio Cooper, both of whom were sophomores. Both had added greatly to the South defensive ability.

HERE WE COME!

"LOOKOUT"

MOUNTAIN-

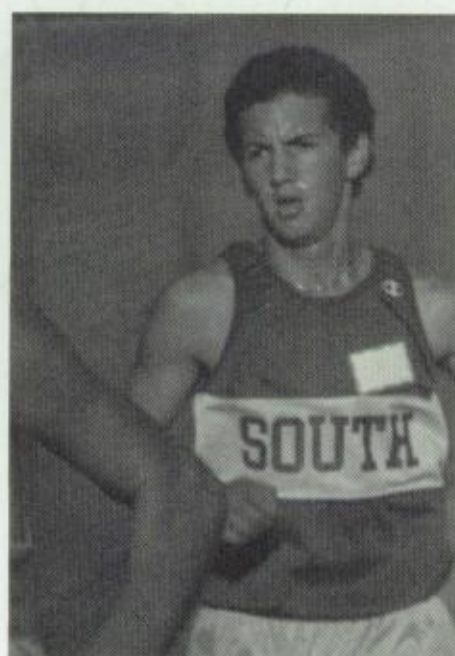

As the fastest runner on the team, Steve Luff looked to finish high in the state. He worked extremely hard all summer long, "lived" at Ruby Hill, and won several meets as a junior.

Co-captain Ian Colte is an outstanding athlete because of his very strong team leadership, dedication, and hard work. His sense of humor and encouraging personality did wonders for team unity.

Senior Brian Fieser focused in on the win. He has been running since his junior year, and has improved immensely over two years.

Senior Jake Torris was a strong runner on South's team for four years, and had a tremendous personality and attitude on the team.

Senior Kirsten Logan looks back on a race well done in Boulder. Captain of the Girl's B team, she put in a tough four years.

Senior Isaac Peltier feels the need for speed! With two years of cross country behind him, his senior year was a success.

Coach's Corner

Co-captain Jeni Butler broke the all-school record at mid-season. What's even more extraordinary about her success was the fact that she'd only been running for a year.

Left: Strong newcomers Stephanie Miller, Lisa Clements, and Angela Montoya run the toughest course of the season.

Junior Jeni Harvey was chosen as an outstanding runner for her commitment to the team and her toughness. She was the third fastest runner in the DPL, and holds the second fastest time for a 5k in the history of South.

Although Coach Phil Lingwood has seen many talented athletes come and go from South in his seven years of coaching, he felt this year's team was the hardest working and closest knit group he had ever coached. A key part of this unity was the strong leadership present with captains, Ian Colte and Jeni Butler. These two, along with the other top runners, helped the slower runners get faster, while the slower runners make the faster runners work harder. Evan Wahl and Brian Fieser are products of this help system, being named most improved underclassman and most improved upper-classman respectively. Kirsten Logan was also singled out by Coach Lingwood because of the four years of hard work she had put in for the team. Another obvious result of hard work and togetherness were the large number of successes the team had. The Boy's, Girl's, and Girl's B teams were all champions of the Jefferson County Invitational Meet. The Boy's and Girl's A teams also won the City Park races. Coach Lingwood summed up the whole season perfectly, "The boys have won an invitational meet, the girls have won an invitational meet, the boys have won some trophies, and the girls have won some trophies, but that's not what success is measured by. Success is measured by the amount of effort you put into your sport, which is why our team is a success."

NETTERS ACE SEASON

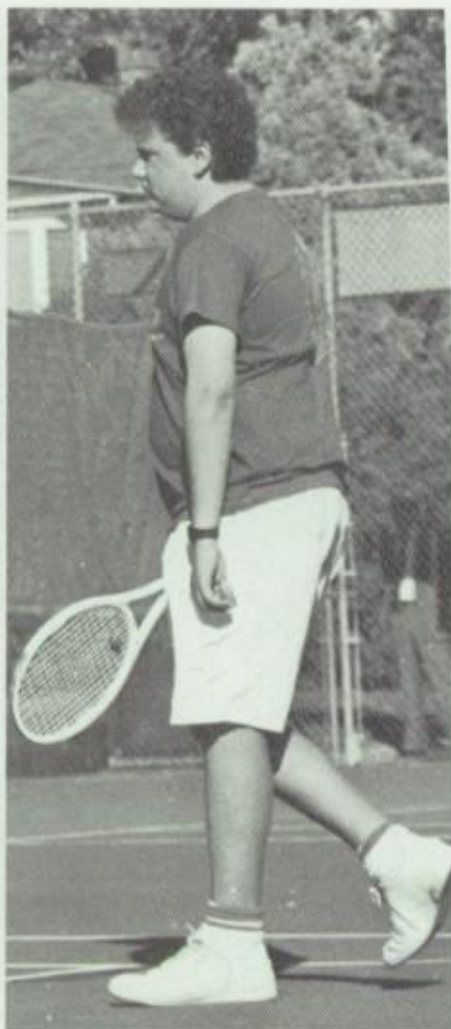

Chris Johnson was chosen as an outstanding athlete for having excellent form and patience, and being the number one singles player.

As a junior, Greg Cooper was chosen as an outstanding athlete. He was tenacious, persistent, hardworking, and cooperative.

With excellent natural ability, and an athletic mentality, sophomore Tor Myhren was chosen as an outstanding athlete.

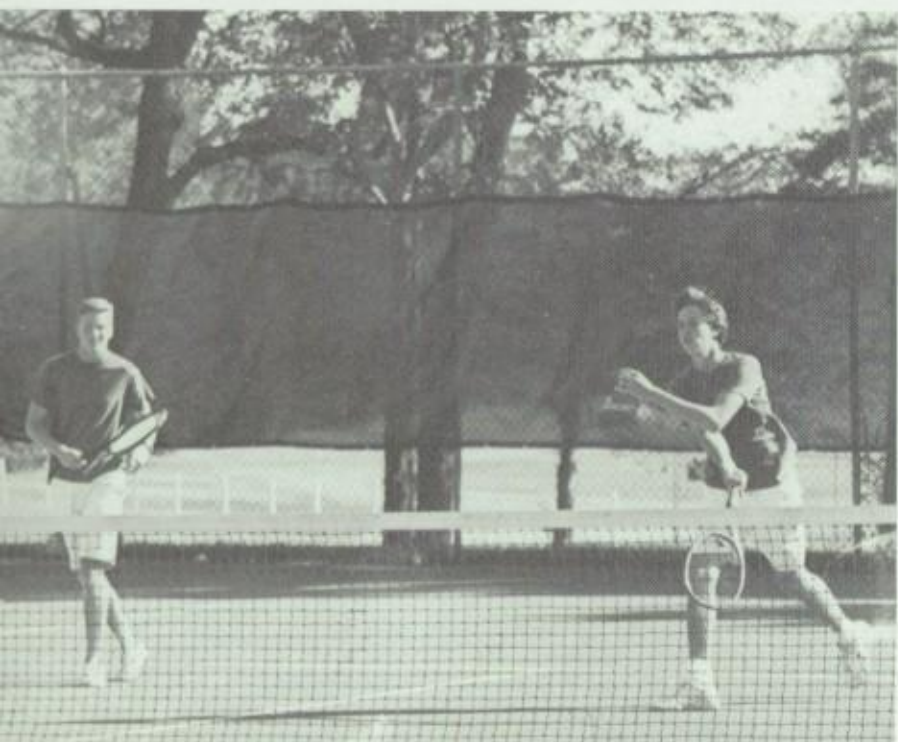

Coach's Corner

Susie Woytek bases success not only on winning, but on many other aspects of the game of tennis. She feels her team was successful because they had class, sportmanship, their skills improved and they had knowledge of the game. Coach Woytek was happy with South's team, and more specifically, was proud with seeing improvement in their knowledge of the doubles' game both on varsity and junior varsity. She also enjoyed every practice, "with nice guys who cooperate and give 100%." An enjoyable aspect of coaching for her is at the end of the season when parents comment of the improvement of the team. She is also proud of how much more mature and sportsmanlike her team is compared to one or two others in the league.

Juniors Bobby Graham and Lance Johnson were the number one doubles team, and were chosen as outstanding athletes. They functioned well as a team and are the best doubles team Coach Woytek has ever coached.

Volleying To Districts

Coach's Corner

The volleyball team used a desire to learn, team comraderie, and good skills to reach their goal of finishing as one of the four best teams in the city. Yet this wasn't good enough for this team and they reached the district tournament after finishing second in the league tournament. The team was led by outstanding players, Tasha Gwin, and Meredith Jensen. The heart of the team was Rhonda Lopez while Christina Tafoya was the most effective defensive player. The team was rounded off by two freshmen, Thuy Lam-Thi and Wendy Huett who were selected as the best newcomers.

Outstanding athlete and senior, Tasha Gwin, had an excellent understanding of the game, was extremely competitive and had great skills.

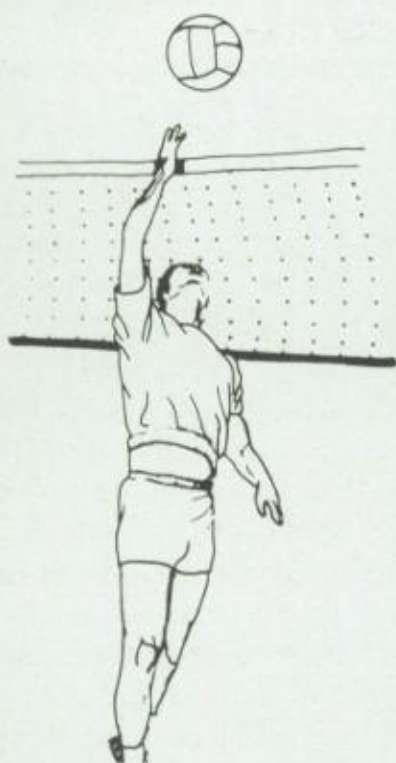

As a junior, Meredith Jensen was chosen as an outstanding athlete. She led the team in blocks and had the best serve on the team.

J.V. Finishes Strong

Coach's Corner

The J.V. volleyball team finished the season on two strong notes. They won four of their last five games and improved greatly from the beginning of the season. Coach Gary Mitchell had his best experience with the team at the end of the season when they beat Kennedy two straight games. "Volleyball is a real skill sport, it requires hard work and concentration," said coach Mitchell. He felt the J.V. had these qualities, making them successful at the end of the year.

Melissa Dozier was chosen as an outstanding athlete for her good skill and noticeable improvement.

Junior Deidre Walsh was a strong hitter and was chosen as an outstanding athlete.

SOCCER 3RD IN CITY

Coach's Corner

"Several coaches throughout the league have said that the chemistry and supportiveness in our team were just unbelievable," commented headcoach Bill Kowalski. This year's varsity soccer team had the best season ever, in terms of wins and losses. The statistics speak for themselves. With a total of 8 wins and 4 losses, the team finished 3rd in Denver's league. Three of South's 4 losses were in the State playoffs, and they were all against top-notch teams. Averaging 3.5 goals for and 1.5 goals against each game, South scored 42 goals making them the highest scoring team in the Denver Prep league. Two-a-day practices during the summer were intense. They did sprints, focused on fancy footwork, and mastered over 20 one-on-one moves to stress offensive play. They learned sophisticated skills, different types of kicks, and generally, it was a lot of hard work on everyone's part. They played "positionless soccer" meaning that everyone learned to play everywhere. "The players were very creative. I mean, you don't score 42 goals without something creative. We played the best because we wanted to be the best," said Coach Kowalski. They set a lot of goals as a team, and worked very hard at achieving them. "When we lost we really felt bad because coaching is to develop and well-rounded people, but also to achieve a State Championship. “It’s a goal almost within our reach. We have a lot of quality young men really working hard.”

Finally, students from all sectors of the school came out and supported the winning soccer team. It looks like the start of a new tradition!

Senior, Joel Bakken made the 2nd team all-city. He was a quiet leader, and although he was silent, he was highly advanced in soccer skills. He could shoot with both feet, and was a college — material type player.

Junior, Tim Welch, was given honorable mention by the DPL. He was a very intelligent and aggressive player.

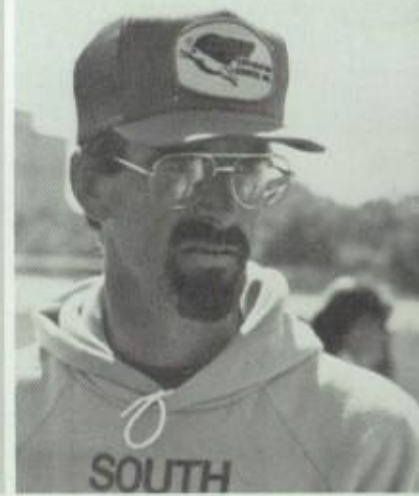

Junior Co-captain, Tyler Crippen, was the top vote-getter in the league for all-city. He made the 1st team, and was nominated for all-state. He was very skilled, and one of the most creative players in the DPL. Very absorbed in soccer, Tyler was always testing out new moves.

Junior, Paul Colte, (left) made the 1st team, and was nominated for all-state. With 13 goals, he was a very humble player. He worked well with his teammates, and gave them all credit for his great success.

Coach's Corner

The Junior Varsity soccer team, under first year Coach Connors, had a fairly successful season. Led by captains Bob Griffin and Chris O'Connor, the team was playing very good soccer by the end of the season. Bob was very enthusiastic and encouraging, and Chris was a consistent example to the other players. The team's tie against East was a tough game, and although not a win, was probably the team's best experience. "We needed something positive, and came off feeling like winners," said Coach Connors. He commented further, "Watching the athletes come together this year was tremendously rewarding."

THE J.V. TEAM: Front Row L to R: Han Ho, Nick Bailey, Carson Carney, Robert Griffin, Jentry Downing, Seamus Clark Middle Row: Brian Holland, Alex Jacobi, Chris O'Connor, Vincent Calderon, Trey Munday, Jacob Klearman, Eric Harrington Back Row: Coach Connors, Todd Johnson, Brent Conklin, Isaac Mion, Jaime Luna, Mark Raen, Thomas Recker

Sophomore, Vincent Calderon, was the most improved J.V. player. As the team's sweeper, he learned to coordinate the defense effectively.

Freshman Carson Carney was the most valuable J.V. player. A wing halfback, he was aggressive on both offense and defense, and was a scoring threat in any game.

GOLFERS UP TO PAR

Junior Matt Schmidt was chosen as outstanding athlete for his second best match and practice average.

Coach's Corner

Over the past four years the golf team has gone from sixth, to fifth, to fourth, and unfortunately this year back down to seventh place in the league. Yet with only one senior, Joe Welch, on the team, Coach Lou Westman hopes the team will again rise in the golf standings next year. "The team was not satisfied with their performance this year and intend to play a lot of golf this coming summer to perfect their skills," stated Coach Westman.

GYMNASTS IMPROVE

Coach's Corner

Gymnastics requires a high sense of self-discipline and dedication on the part of the individual team member. Coach Priscilla Lemak feels this is a unique quality of gymnastics. Missy Phifer had this self-discipline and dedication, and reached the vaulting competition. Other good performances were turned in by Mia Yamaguchi and Lauri Vargas, part of a small team. Coach Lemak feels the lack of numbers was because South doesn't offer gymnastics as a class like other schools around the state.

Outstanding gymnast, Missy Phifer contributed 30-33 points per team competition, and went to state in the vaulting competition.

As the most improved, Mia Yamaguchi was chosen as an outstanding athlete. She worked very diligently to better her basic skills and individual performances.

SOFTBALL BATS TO WIN!

Junior Kim Banks was the most outstanding hitter and fielder. She was probably the best power hitter in the Denver Prep League.

Coach's Corner

In its first year, softball was very successful. Under coaches Mike Baldwin and Val Prisjatschew, the team did well enough to compete in the regional tournament. High points in the season included wins over Kennedy and Washington, and low points in the season included wins over Kennedy and Washington, and low points were the losses to TJ and Lincoln. Underclassman Gayle Walter and Andrea Rosales are predicted to be leaders of next year's team.

Coach's Corner

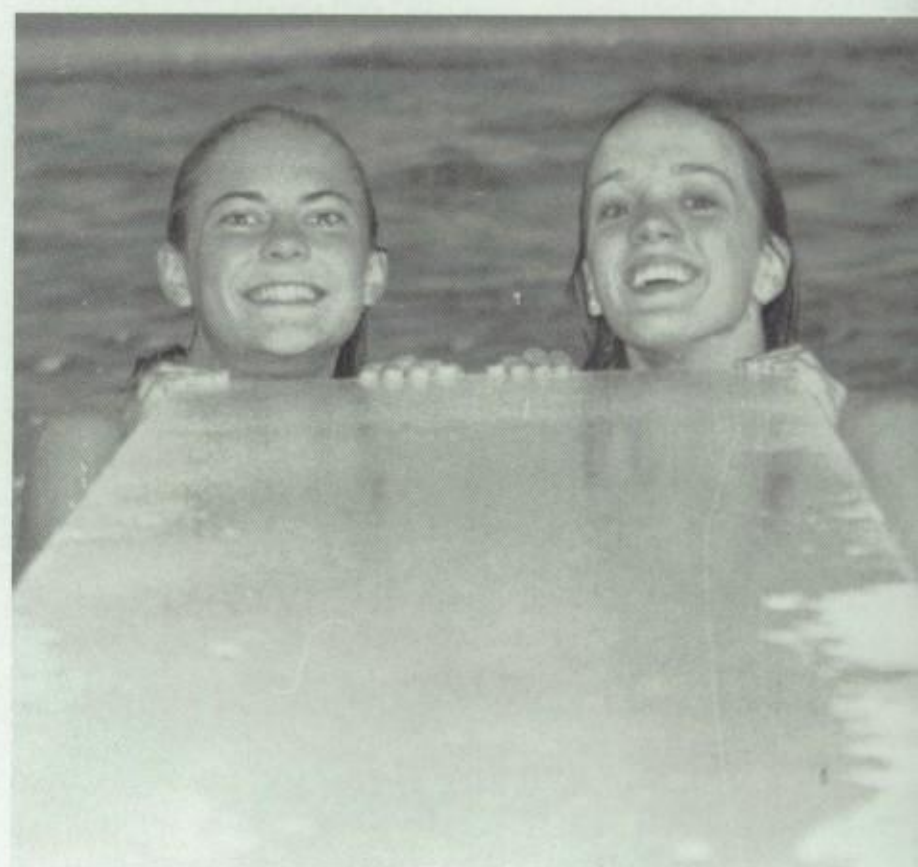

The Girls' Swimming and Diving teams, under first year coach Jon Bergman, had a somewhat disappointing season. They only won one meet, but they did have a lot of improvements within the team. Swimming is a sport that takes a lot of dedication and hard work, but there is not a lot of glory. It is hard to get a big turnout on a team for this reason, but the athletes that do decide to come out learn much about working hard. South's team had a lot of girls who had never swum before, and several of these girls excelled. The team's meet against Manual was incredibly hard, and probably the low point of the season. Sickness plagued the team, and it was an unsuccessful meet. The high point of the season was, according to Coach Bergman, the meet against North and West. "South's times went way down, and everyone did great." The team beat Montbello and West, and fought a close battle against North. Coach Bergmann concluded, "I've really enjoyed coaching this team. It's the first team I've ever coached."

SWIMMERS, DIVERS SPLASH ON

Coach's Corner

It was Thursday, December 3, 1987. The time was 3:45 . . . 24 hours away from the first meet of the season. The meet, against TJ, would be tough, but Coach Jon Bergmann said optimistically — "We have a record turnout of 30 swimmers this year, and individuals have to earn the right to compete individually." Lead by senior Captains Isaac Peltier and Adam Williams, the team had really worked up a sweat. Saturday workouts for the past several weeks had been known to last a notorious 3 hours. On the first Saturday, Isaac Peltier swam approximately 7 miles, or 36,960 feet!!! He later commented, "If everyone sticks with it, the team should do really well and may even have a shot at winning city." Other seniors included first year diver David Watley, first year swimmer Joshua Spears, and swimmer David Ainsley who was fastest on the team. With 14 sophomores, and 5 freshman, the team had a lot of depth. They had a positive attitude about winning. "They knew they'd be good," said Coach Bergmann. Although it would be a close match between Lincoln, J.F.K., G.W., T.J. and South, the team was starting to come together, and was a possible contender for the city championship. Because diving was a regular event in every meet, Juniors Christopher Gregory and Matthew Conklin, the first and second divers respectively, would help the team reach its goal. Next year, Junior Steven Luff will be expected to be a strong team leader. A dedicated and hard-working swimmer, "He is pretty quick, and has good leadership potential," said Bergmann. Other swimmers who will be returning next year include Sophomores Brian Sterling and Kyle Dotson. They were predicted "to improve a lot", and "could really develop into good swimmers," concluded Coach Bergmann.

BOYS HOOP IT

Coach's Corner

A young team with little experience, the Boy's Varsity Basketball team kicked the season off with two tough games, East and George Washington. Coach Charles Hardin commented, "We're 0 and 2, but we're optimistic about the season." Practice had been going perfectly, but a lack of height plagued the players. This made rebounding hard but the team was really working. Senior Joseph Banks was chosen as the permanent captain, and two other captains were chosen for each game. Joseph was recognized by Coach Hardin as "a great competitor and a fine floor general with a lot of stick-to-it-ness; he does anything the coaching staff asks him to do and is a very modest player." Other outstanding players for the first two games were Seniors John Drear-ry, Jamal Coleman, and Cameron Gray. Despite the first two losses, Coach Hardin felt the team would do well — "By Christmas we'll be above 500 and the players will improve once they get experience under their belts. We could have done better these past two games, but that's not the point. The point is to get some playing time in for the subs so they can get some experience." He continued, "It's just a game-to-game thing, and we're capable of winning our next four games." Junior Alexander Hailemelekot and sophomore Tor Myhren are both expected to be superstars before they graduate from South, according to Hardin. Junior Kumbe Ginnane will also be a team leader next year. Because they are such a young team, Coach Hardin sums up the situation well — "We're a team on the rise!"

This year's Girl's Varsity Basketball team, following last year's rebuilding year, was ready to take on the best in the DPL. JV OFF TO QUICK START

Coach's Corner

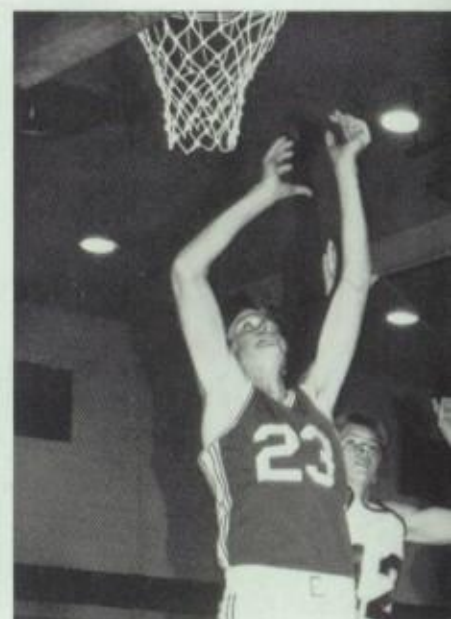

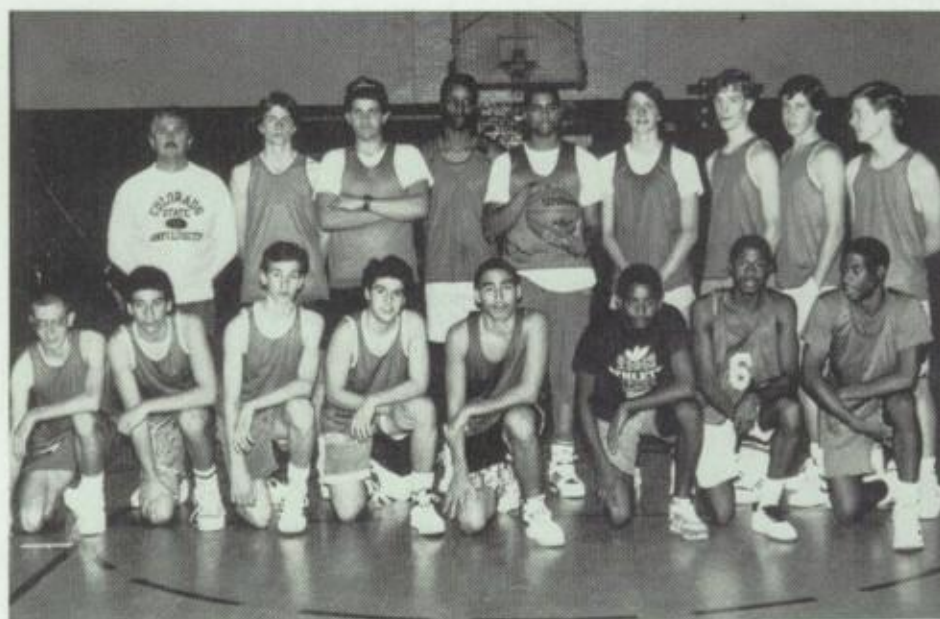

"In fifteen years of coaching I'm enjoying this group of kids more than any group I've ever had," stated Boy's JV basketball coach, Benjy Montoya. The team's first game, against East, was an exciting one. Although the team was eleven points down in the fourth quarter, freshman John Hailemekot, and sophomore Lance Johnson brought the team back to tie the game. Junior Michael Vaughn hit two free throws with 15 seconds left in the game, giving South a victory. The leadership of the juniors and the youth of the freshmen created a good balance. The year produced an excellent freshmen class, basketball-wise. Wade Constance, Tim Young, Todd Young and Maurice Clayburn were all outstanding freshmen.

John Hailemekot was a very good all around player. He was a skilled defender, but he also had good shooting and dribbling skills. Sophomore John Peterson, juniors Michael Vaughn and Lance Johnson future. Coach Montoya concluded, "I'm just real happy to be here and I'd really like to teach here and so I could be with the kids all day."

Coach's Corner

"It's a real learning process right now," stated Girl's coach, Fred Box. In recent years, the girl's basketball program at South had not been at the level of its competition. Coaches Box and Patty Jeffries were trying to develop a new program. Practice went exceptionally well. Attendance was good, and the team really wanted to learn. They set goals to work toward, and improved very quickly. Also, the players got along well personally. Roslyn Gillpatrick, one of the few juniors on the team served as the 6 foot rebounder. Aside of her height, Roslyn was the overall team captain. Junior Shelley Huett, and Sophomores Tanisha Dailey and Joey Bonderson were also cited as important players, with Tanisha being one of the leading scorers. Coach Box felt that "the main purpose of J.V. is to teach fundamentals and to prepare for varsity. If we win it's O.K., but that's not the main point." This fit in with his idea of coaching — "We're trying to develop a program and a new pride. We're trying to raise our program to the level of other schools. We're trying to start new traditions and, with the new gym being built, this is the time to do it. I see a lot of girls at South that believe in themselves."

WRESTLEMANIA

With six returning lettermen, the wrestling team had a goal of finishing as one of the top three teams in the DPL. An outstanding crop of dedicated and talented underclassmen will also help the team achieve their goal. The only thing that might stop them is the lack of members to wrestle at certain weights.

Browner's Beat

"A lot of squads will try to knock us off our throne, but a 3-time city championship is our goal," said Diana Browner. Eleven new members gave the returning seniors, Darcy Dowling, Michelle Jackson, Tina Crenshaw, Lynette Reed, Brenda Butz, and Heidi Tebockhorst an extra tough job over the summer. The squads 'superior' trophy at the "Rocky Mountain Spirit Spectacular" during the summer, however, showed that the team worked very well together. Head cheerpoms Darcy and Michelle did an excellent job as leaders of the squad, Darcy, being very skilled and organized and Michelle, handling a role of authority very well. "In the upcoming state meet, with 30-40 teams, it's going to take a flawless routine to do well, but we will. I know we will." It is probably safe to say that this squad was among the top 5 in the state.

Ms. Browner has fun in the sun.

The 1987-1988 Pep Club had a great year. The club, sponsored by Ms. Diana Browner, helped entertain at the homecoming half-time activities. They danced to 60's pop hits, "I Heard It Through The Grapevine," and "Rockin' Robin," as well as such modern hits as Michael Jackson's "Bad." At football and basketball games, Pep Club was out in full force to cheer on our mighty REBELS!

Senate was one of the most active groups at South this year. One of their most successful projects this year was the first dance, "A Taste Of South," it was a big hit with everyone. Another major Senate sponsored activity was the Homecoming parade at Rebel Roundup. According to All-School President Sung Park, "Rebel Roundup was superb this year. More people participated and everyone seemed to have a lot of fun." This year Senate helped the needy by pitting class against class in a canned food drive competition.

The success of this year's Senate activities was due to the involvement of the students who ran for and were elected to the various positions on Senate. This kind of participation on the part of the students is what makes South such a unique school according to Mr. Hernandez, the sponsor.

This years Johnny Reb Yearbook had a fitting theme, "Bringing It To Life". The theme was carried out throughout the book, by the use of picture tinting, "tear art", and a new cover design. These unique ideas were the product of much deliberation and brain storming by the editors, Jane Cady, and Kerri Wong.

CONFEDERATE . . .

Once again South's newspaper was one of the best in the state. Mrs. Salazar, the Confederate sponsor felt that this was her "most talented group of kids," and her confidence in their ability was justified when the staff made the newspaper something to raise Rebel pride.

This year's chief editor was Joe Welch, and the outstanding photographers were Steve Luff and Sean Wilson.

This year's goals were for more variety in the center section, more in-depth investigations, and expanded advertising.

YOUTH IN GOVERNMENT

So you want to be in politics? Well, here's a great place to start. This club, sponsored by Mr. Ellsworth, was a great place to experience the fun of politics, maybe be Governor for a day or possibly even pass a law of your choice at the Colorado State Legislature.

Students Against Drunk Driving

SADD is a national organization set up for students to alert their peers to the perils of drunk driving. SADD is a new club at South but holds much promise. The members of SADD held assemblies, gave speeches, and participated in the state convention. In the spring the group helped teen alcoholics build a recovery house in Fort Morgan.

DANCE CLUB

As always, South High's Dance Club had many very fine performers. Many of the members were new dancers, out of Mrs. White's beginning dance class, but there were also many veteran dancers. The Dance Club held a successful dance performance entitled "From the Top."

VICA

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is a class and club combined. VICA worked with the students interested in trades and crafts. These students get credit for having a related job as well as for taking the class. The teacher/sponsor was Mr. Richard Schreiber.

FBLA

With the loss of DECA, FBLA was South's only business related club. Most of the members of FBLA are interested in careers in Secretarial fields, Business Managing etc. Business teacher, Mrs. Blakely has been the longtime sponsor of this club.

HERO

HERO is an organization that is designed to help students prepare for work experience in in home service types of jobs. The successful history of this program is due in large part to the hard work of its sponsor, Mrs. Cox.

HERO members: Lisa Banks, Dawn Schlage, Dayna Pickett, Janette Brown, Dee Avila, Coleen Walsh, Katrina Lairsmith, Melody Nieto, Karen Trevino, Jodeen Lopez, Sheri Griffin, Ivon DeSantiago, Stephanie Oaks, Mrs. Cox, Teri Washington, Stephanie Pounders, Clarence Alston, Vincent Robertson, Jamie Maxwell, Julie Bannon, Stacie Johnson, Melissa Dozier, Damion Cooper, Katrina Webb, Rocky Brewer, Veronica Jara, Tim Curtis, Shawn Lockhart, Melissa Beckmer, Sonja Button.

Middle: "I think I'm in love."

Bottom: Sponsor, Mrs. Cox explains the finer points of HERO to Sonya Button.

FHA

One of South's oldest and most important clubs is FHA. The members of Future Homemakers of America learn the basic skills needed to make a household run smoothly and efficiently. Mrs. Carol Johnson teaches the club members cooking, sewing and other household skills (Yes, boys need to know this too!) and seems to be doing a good job at that!

Anne Brasel and Becky Davis work diligently on new recipes.

Members: Shane Chatfield, Greg Crowe, Erian Wardans, Angie Wolan, Donna Garcia, Clay Groom, Kim Hamblin, Ginger Lewis, Sandy Montano, Jennifer Olson, Jason Owen, Ronald Patterson, Mare Wong, Arnetta Young

BOWLING CLUB

The Bowling Club is one of South's many new extracurricular activities. The club is made up of several different teams which compete for four different titles. Certified coaches are provided for the team by the bowling alley. The team was sponsored by language teacher, Mrs. Cohen.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club is one of South High's newest additions. At their regular weekly meetings, they discuss the Spanish culture and history as well as more specific aspects of the language. The Spanish Club also held Spanish-style breakfasts and various school functions.

Sponsor, Dr. Raymond Lobato, encourages all who are interested in the Spanish language and heritage to join the club next fall, no matter what their knowledge of the language is.

Club Members: Coleen Craig, Christina Tafoya, Chaka Johnson, Reah Lee, Lanette Warren, Dawn Garcia, Jean Craig, Chris DeThomas, Matt Cali

Seniors Deepak McLaren, Matthew Laeson, and Stephanie Miller argue the importance of nuts and brownies on the frozen yogurt.

This year's Key Club was more successful than ever before. Its 72 members gave their time and effort for such community efforts as shoveling snow for the elderly. Key Club also sponsored a Penguin's night at Penguin's Frozen Yogurt. The profits from this night go toward various club projects.

PEER COUNSELORS

Sponsor, Mrs. Harris

Seniors, Lynnnette Reed and Paula Collard.

Everybody knows how hard it is to talk about things like drugs and sex, especially to parents. That's why the Peer Counseling program was started. The students involved in the program have all had experience with teen problems like drug abuse, divorce or just getting along.

Students were able to get a lot of help from a friend through confidential "rap" sessions with the Peer Counselors.

ADVANCED BAND

James Musselman says, "Grr, I hate this song."

Advanced band led by Mr. Dobbs produced some beautiful music this year. Although not starting the year Mr. Dobbs was able to create an outstanding music program and entertained the fans at many of this year's football games.

JAZZ BAND

This year's Jazz Band proved to be better than ever with the new coming of Mr. Thomas Simmons. Mr. Simmons seemed to work well with the band and visa versa. The Jazz Band entertained South at school assemblies, after school programs, and at football games. We can expect to see many good things from this band in the future.

STAGE CREW BUILDS THE WAY TO THE TOP

Jay Smith and Aaron Myers look for an encore.

Stage Crew serves as a foundation for all South High activities held in the auditorium. Stage Crew prepares sets, lighting, sound, and other necessities for putting on a production. Mr. Lingle sponsors the Stage Crew.

Drama Club

This year's Drama Club is proving much better with age. Second year sponsor, Randy Thomas, has brought new and refreshing changes to the production, and acting techniques of South High's actors. The Drama Club put on two plays, one in fall and one in spring, and a musical.

ADMINISTRATORS

Mr. Ray Humphrey, Principal

Mr. Ray Humphrey, our principal, was in his third year here at South. He had been involved in education for 32 years. Mr. Humphrey received both of his college degrees from the University of Denver. He enjoyed working with the students, faculty, and staff at South. In his spare time, Mr. Humphrey liked to travel and fish.

This year, as in previous years, South's administrators took the lead in running the school. However, changes were made and two more vice principals were added, bringing the total number of administrators to six. Duties were divided among the vice principals, which helped the school to be more organized and even better than ever before.

BRINGING . . .

Seniors

TO LIFE

The name Sung Park soon became synonymous with the word incredible in her four years at South. Besides participating in and attending school athletic events, she found time to be a member in high standing of Key Club, National Honor Society, and Student Senate.

Being South's all school president, she became not only a symbol of leadership, but a true leader. Proof of this is the recognition she has also received from groups outside the school community. For the motivation and pride she brought to South, Sung Park definitely deserves the title Rebel Rouser.

TAMIKO ABO

Where do the children play?
Will you make us laugh, will you make us cry, will you tell us when to live, will you tell us when to die? I know we've come a long way, we're changing day to day. But tell me, where d' th' ch'ldr'n play.

Joel Bakken quickly earned recognition and respect for his high quality of performance on the soccer field. This respect was not confined to the fields of South only, he was awarded All-City recognition, and played indoor and competitive soccer when he wasn't playing for South. Off the field, Joel maintained his high level of performance. He was an active member of Class Council, Yearbook, and as a senior he served on the Prom Committee. Because of the recognition he has gained for his performance in many areas of student activities, Joel Bakken is now a Rebel Rouser.

DAVID CLEMENTS

The name Joe Welch is a common one to anyone in the Class of '88.
Joe was president of this class three years running. Unbeaten by any other candidate, he brought success to the Class Council, this being proven in his continuous re-election. Besides keeping busy with this large task, he was a member of National Honor Society, the editor of the newspaper, and a participant in Youth in Government.

He also played lacrosse and golf all four years he was at South. It seemed he was successful in everything he participated in. Joe Welch, you have earned the name Rebel Rouser.

Lynette Reed was an important member of the student body for many reasons. She spent a great deal of time working with SADD, Key Club, and Pep Club. During her junior and senior years she was a member of the Cheer Poms and her encouragement of the athletes did not go unnoticed. The music program also benefitted from her talents, as she was a member of Concert Choir and Advanced Women's Choir. Lynette enjoyed dancing, swimming, and bicycling. Her wide variety of interests and talents earned Lynette the title of Rebel Rouser.

LISA CLEMENTS

Tracy Schmidt was an exceptional student who will always be remembered for her school spirit. Between balancing a job and other outside interests, she participated in sports, Class Council, and many groups such as Spanish, and Sign Language Club. Besides all this, Tracy also found time to encourage other students in their pursuits. At any given school event, sports and dances included, chances were that she was there, rooting on her favorite team, or just having a good time. Her enthusiastic support did not go unnoticed. Congratulations Tracy, you have earned the name Rebel Rouser.

Not only an exceptional musician, Sean Michel displayed a high level of performance in ROTC activities as well. This student brought excellence to South's Jazz Band, while being one of the few to be selected to perform in Denver's All-City Marching Band, Concert Band, and the State Jazz Festival. Sean also excelled in ROTC activities, he participated in state wide JROTC performances and the Battalion Color Guard. Assisting South's rifle and drill teams, Sean is being recognized for his dedication and accomplishments in his pursuits. Sean Michel is a 1988 Rebel Rouser.

Jennifer Clanahan was a vital part of the student body here at South. She was an active member of Class Council, National Honor Society, and Yearbook. She served on Prom Committee, Mr. Rebel, and took part in the Balarat program, teaching elementary school children all about nature. Her activities did not stop here. She was a letterman in track, soccer, swimming, and diving. Jennifer's school pride showed in everything she was involved in, being a definite asset to everything she worked on. Because of all of this, she has earned the title Rebel Rouser. Congratulations Jennifer!

Miriam Brewer was a student who gave a lot of her time helping others. She was a Peer Counselor and students found that she was easy to talk to. Miriam was the vice-president of the South High Student Alliance, and the Academic representative to Student Senate. Besides talking to and helping others, she also was involved in the athletics programs here, and managed the varsity boy's soccer team. Being an excellent singer, Miriam was one of the few selected to sing in the City Wide Choir. For the variety of things you excelled at Miriam, you have been chosen a Rebel Rouser.

Michelle Jackson's deep concern for people is what will long be remembered at South. Michelle was a peer counselor, she worked with the affirmative placement committee, and was a member of the South High Student Alliance. She was also very active outside of school in her church youth group. Along with her commitment to helping others, Michelle was looked up to by many in her role as head cheerleader of the South Cheerpoms. The genuine concern for others, and the school pride Michelle Jackson has shown in her four years here is being rewarded by her being named a Rebel Rouser.

Marilyn Zanders, was an active Rebel, who obviously felt it was important to be involved. Involved she was. Marilyn was a member of SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving), South High Student Alliance, Key Club, and The Affirmative Placement Program to name only a few. She took the time to be involved because she cared about things that were going on around her in today's community. Not only involved in school activities, she enjoyed singing, playing the piano, and writing. Marilyn is to be commended for her involvement and dedication. A familiar name to many, students and faculty alike, was Kerri Wong. Outside of school Kerri was involved in Young Life, and enjoyed cross-county skiing. Because of the many things Kerri Wong excelled at, it is no surprise that she has been chosen a Rebel Rouser.

HEAD BOY

It seems as if Jason Whyte became involved in activities at South the day he walked in the door as a freshman. As soon as he realized what the possibilities were at school he began to take an interest in the academic, social and political life. He served on the Class Council as a representative for 4 years, including time as All-school vice president and treasurer. Jason took part in the Youth In Government program for all four years that he was here. In an effort to serve not only the school but the community he joined the Key Club, where he worked as both vice-president and president. While active in both school and political and service groups Jason still had time to letter in both swimming and soccer as a player and as a manager of the girl's soccer team. Outside of school he attended 5 school related school camps and two international conventions. The conventions included trips to Arizona and Toronto, Canada for the Key Club. It is easy to see why we salute Jason as the Top Boy of 1988.

HEAD GIRL

Lynne Marques is living proof that you don't have to make a lot of noise to be great success in life. Although quiet and unassuming she has managed in her four years at South to become very involved in the social, academic and political life of the school. In her first year here Lynne ran for and was elected to the Class Council. This was the beginning of four years of service to the school which culminated in the 12th grade with her election as secretary. During these years she kept busy as a member of SADD, worked on the Prom committee, Adopt-A-School committee, the After-the-Prom party committee and was a Junior Escort. None of these activities kept Lynne from maintaining her academic standing in the school and as a result she was a member of the National Honor Society for her last 3 years. She finished her senior year as vice president of this prestigious group. What has made Lynne so unique, however, has not just been her committee and organization work but her very special attitude. She has always been ready to help with any project to make South a better school and to handle all of the tedious little jobs to make a success of any program. We salute you as the Top Girl of 1988.

IN MEMORIAM

Martin Richardson
November 7, 1971 — August 10, 1987

Martin was a student at South during his freshman year. He enjoyed German class, liked to play sports with his friends, and was active in his church teen club. In the words of his mother, "Martin always amazed me by what he knew. He was a very mature young person. He joked around, and always tried to make us laugh." As she spoke for Martin's five brothers and sisters, and also the rest of his family and friends, his mother commented, "There is a big part of our lives missing now, Martin was a doer, he liked to keep busy . . . We all miss him-but he was more than a just a son to me, he was also my best friend, my confidant."

Frances E. Morrison Roome
March 3, 1928 — October 2, 1987

Mrs. Roome was a teacher at South from 1982 to 1987. She had been teaching since 1948. She was educated at Greeley State Teachers College, which is now known as the University of Northern Colorado. According to her husband, "Frances was a born teacher who lived, breathed, and loved the profession. When she was away from it she was miserable, when she was steeped in it she was happiest. Students were numbers, they were an obsession. Each one of them presented a special challenge as to how she could do the most for them. A former student of Mrs. Roome's commented that "She certainly meant a great deal to me — as a great teacher, a special mentor, and as a friend."

Mrs. Roome was a teacher who cared about her students and they cared about her in return. She is sorely missed by her husband and children, as well as by the students, faculty and staff at South.

She lived by the following creed: "Now abideth faith, hope and charity, but the greatest of these is charity."

ANYONE WHO CAN'T PLAY SOCCER, SUCH AS JENI BUTLER, IS GOING TO GET PUMMELED! I AM GOING TO PUMMEL YOUR FLABBY STOMACH WITH SOCCER BALLS AND KICK YOUR LAZY BUTT INTO THE NET!

Believe me now & hear me later. Joel Bakken is my idol & his is a awesome sports section, please!

JOEL

WE JUST WANT TO PUMMEL YOU UP!

CONGRATULATIONS! IAN ON THE MARRIAGE TO JENI HARVEY!!!

We call this one "Camelflauge" Speaking of Camels, SUNG! How is your mom? Speaking of Sung... BOB! How is your mom? THANKS EVERYONE! FROM THE SPORTS "MC" EDITORS!

joel Bakken and Jeni Butler

THE SPORTS "MC" EDITORS THE POOR, Haggard Sponsor

"Outta here... Outta here..." We did it-88! Congratulations staff for truly bringing South to life. Thanks to EVERYONE who helped with student life: Jen Clanahan, for being there even when we weren't, Editors Kerri, and Jane, for letting us have so much fun, Mr. E., for always keeping his wit and of course, Dave for putting up with our finicky demands. Good luck next year, keep up the tradition. Winchell's anyone?.... anyone?..

Lila Stine & Darcy Dowling Hey Lila, Darcy, Jen C., we made all the deadlines. Lila and Darcy, you're great teachers. Jen next year in goes OUR layout! Mr. Elliott, 7:40 everyday, (sorry). Good luck seniors, we'll miss ya!! (89) (always) Jeni Harvey (The myth)

From the Staff

Well Gump, we did it!!! Thanks to everyone on staff, but especially to Karen Burnett, Mr. E. ("Sir!"), Doc Ten, Mr. Doug Fais & Mrs. Holly Marks (for their artistic help), and to all the clubs and teams for their patience. And remember- DON'T GET CAUGHT WITH THE MEMORY THAT LASTS A LIFETIME! Keri Wong & Jane Chady. Thanks Dads!

We can hardly believe we were finished! Thanks to Mr. Elliott for your confidence in us and for keeping us going. - Tschudy, Kim, Selina, Angela, Leticia for doing our quad-packs. We appreciated it. And a special thanks to our advertisers and the rest of our staff, we couldn't have done it without you!

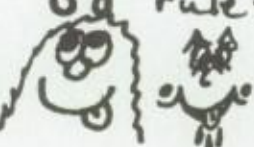

ADVERTISING - Lynne Marques Jeannette Salanis WE MADE IT! WE FINISHED! WE'RE DONE! We'll miss you '88', but as you know '90' always has & always will RULE! sopho Thanks everybody for making our first year on yearbook really great. Clubs & Orgs Kim Nestor Selina McIntire

SOUTH Rebels...

NO MORE PICTURES, NO MORE PROOFS. NO MORE SPORTS, CANDIDS, CLUBS TO SHOOT! Type! It's finally over! Thank Mr. E. for letting me be on "Special Assignment!" It's been lots of fun and lots of work. BEST OF LUCK to the staff SENIORS! Editors -> You did GOOD!!! Bye! Miss ya, Love ya! Ewu! 89

We lived through the deadlines, we lived through the strife, we had some good times, and we brought it to life!

Thanks to everyone especially Ewu, Jane and Mr. E. Good luck '89 rules!

- Royalty - Jennifer Clanahan Michelle M. Jackson

Congratulations to all the staff members of the 1988 Johnny Reb Yearbook. We succeeded in "Bringing it to life!" Thanks Mr. E. for always accepting our tardiness. Best of luck to next years staff!!

Well, we did it! No more deadlines! Congratulations to the rest of the staff for a great book. - good luck to next year's staff, I'll miss you guys. Tschudy Mace
